Can you describe your typical morning routine for a weekday morning? For example, what errands, habits, or activities would you be doing. Please be as specific as possible.

Make coffee, check my phone, shower, then bike to work.

What floor do you live on?

Ground floor

Do you have pets or plants you care for?

One or more pets

How do you typically get around?

Imagine this happens during your regular day: You wake up on the ground floor and push out of bed, but your feet do not stay down. You grab the door frame and make coffee. The water lifts out of the machine in round drops. The coffee drifts out of the mug before you can drink it. You check your phone with one hand while holding the counter with the other. Then you head to the shower. The water beads float around the bathroom and stick to your face, arms, and the mirror instead of falling. Your pet drifts past the hallway and paws at the air. You open the door to leave and rise up from the yard outside the ground floor apartment. You pull yourself along the fence and sidewalk for your walk commute. At work, you drift into your chair and hook a leg under the desk to stay at the computer.
